

3. Can you give an example demonstrating your ability to work and relate with a range of people, including people of different ages, cultural groups and social backgrounds?

4. Young Workers Legal Service provides legal assistance and advice to clients without charge. However our clients must make a commitment to join their relevant union once we have resolved their issue. Part of the role of YWLS volunteers is to discuss and advocate unionism to current and potential clients. How do you feel about undertaking this role as a volunteer?

5. Can you provide examples of any social, political or community issues, groups or programs which you have been involved in?

6. YWLS will provide the requisite theoretical training for your role as a volunteer. In order to help us structure our training, can you please indicate whether or not you have studied any of the following topics:-

- Labour Law -
- Occupational Health, Safety and Welfare -
- Workers Compensation -
- Human Rights –
- Young People and the Law -

N.B It is not a prerequisite that you have studied any of the above topics. The following information is designed to assist us in preparing adequate training for volunteers.

YWLS operates on a weekly basis every Tuesday from 9.00am – 4.30 pm. We make allowances for PLT/GDLP topics and lectures held on these days. Please indicate your anticipated level of availability during Semester 1 2009 (and Semester 2 if known). You may refer to PLT/GDLP commitments.

If you are unavailable due to work or uni commitments, could you please indicate the times you will be unavailable on Tuesdays ie what time you have Tuesday lectures/shifts.

When is the approximate completion date for your law degree?

Are you studying on a full-time or part-time basis?

Thank you for completing this questionnaire.
