SA Unions offers a one day course for anyone responsible for the coordination of WHS programs, safety management systems and training in their workplace.

The course is designed to give participants an update on the WHS Act 2012, which took effect 1 January 2013. This course will look at relevant changes to the Act which will affect your organisation and is also suitable for people to update their knowledge and skills in techniques and strategies.

SA Unions has many years' experience providing extensive WHS training for Health and Safety Representatives, WHS Committee Members, Supervisors and Managers.

Our specialist trainers and facilitators are skilled in providing the highest quality training in a professional environment.
